

Preventing torture and ill-treatment of female detainees through gender-sensitive monitoring

2015 Summer School on Torture Prevention

Objective: To increase the capacity of National Preventive Mechanisms to address gender aspects in the prevention of torture and ill-treatment. The course is based on the UN Rules for the Treatment of Women Prisoners and Non-custodial measures for Women Offenders ('the Bangkok Rules')

Who: Members and staff of National Preventive Mechanisms

Where: University of Bristol, United Kingdom

When: 10-13 August 2015

Register: To register for the course, please send the registration sheet to: pkeeling@penalreform.org before the deadline of 10 June.

The Summer School is co-organised by Penal Reform International and the University of Bristol, in partnership with the Association for the Prevention of Torture.

Module 1
Introduction and Background

Module 2
Protection from abuse

Module 3
Safety and security

Module 4
Health and hygiene

Module 5
Special categories

Module 6
Contact with women prisoners

Module 7
Monitoring methodology and interviewing

Module 8
Reporting, recommendations, and follow-up

Preventing torture and ill-treatment of female detainees through gender-sensitive monitoring

---

Price: £352.00 (payable in GBP, includes all accommodation and all meals from Sunday evening to Friday morning)

Please note that the organisers cannot offer reimbursement for travel costs.

Requirements: Good working knowledge of English.

Please note that if the course is oversubscribed, the organisers may have to select amongst the registrations and limit the number of participants per country.

Methodology: The sessions will be facilitated by various international experts, with overall facilitation from PRI, Bristol University and APT. All sessions will be participatory and include case studies and interactive workshops, focused on applying the Bangkok Rules in the monitoring context.

Before the start of the course we will ask you to submit a 500-word contribution on the situation of and main challenges for women detainees in your country, based on your monitoring experience.

Visa: If required, Bristol University will provide you with the necessary letter for your visa application.

Sponsored by the Danish Government within the Convention against Torture Initiative.

