

Detention monitoring applying the UN Nelson Mandela Rules

The Summer School will equip members and staff of NPMs with the knowledge to use and apply the revised UN Standard Minimum Rules for the Treatment of Prisoners (Nelson Mandela Rules).

Who: Members and staff of National Preventive Mechanisms

Where: University of Bristol, UK

When: 14 – 17 August 2017

Course content:

Module 1: Setting the scene

Module 2: Respect for dignity

Module 3: Prison management

Module 4: Restrictions, discipline and sanctions

Module 5: Incident prevention and response

Module 6: Healthcare

Module 7: Contact with the outside world

Module 8: Specific categories of prisoners

Module 9: Monitoring
methodology, reporting, follow-up

Final workshop

Download the full agenda at: www.penalreform.org/news/summer-school-2017-mandela-rules

Cost and other details on the Summer School

Price: £375 inclusive meal/accommodation package at 'Durdham Hall' Student Accommodation, Bristol University.

Please note that the organisers cannot offer reimbursement for travel costs or other expenses, and that student accommodation is being used to keep the costs down.

Register: Send an application form to orope@penalreform.org by 17 May 2017. Download it here or find online at www.penalreform.org/news/summer-school-2017-mandela-rules

Please note that if the course is oversubscribed, the organisers will select applications based on representation from maximum number of countries/regions and experience.

Requirements: Good working knowledge of English.

Methodology: The modules will be facilitated by international and national experts. A participatory approach will enable participants to apply the Nelson Mandela Rules to their monitoring work, using case studies and interactive workshops

Visa: A letter of invitation to support visa applications to the UK can be provided.

The Summer School is organised by Penal Reform International and the Human Rights Implementation Centre, University of Bristol, in partnership with Association for the Prevention of Torture. It is sponsored by the Danish Government.