

THE ROLE OF INDEPENDENT DETENTION MONITORING IN PROTECTING HUMAN RIGHTS IN PRISONS WHILE PREVENTING AND COUNTERING VIOLENT EXTREMISM AND RADICALIZATION TO TERRORISM

15 JULY 2021 | 14:00 - 15:30 CEST
REGISTER AT: BIT.LY/3QD6OFI

Join us for the online launch of the new publication by the OSCE Office for Democratic Institutions and Human Rights (ODIHR) and Penal Reform International (PRI): “Protecting Human Rights in Prisons while Preventing Radicalization Leading to Terrorism or Violence: A Guide for Detention Monitors”. The publication underlines the importance of independent detention monitoring and looks in detail at a number of specific human rights risk areas in preventing and countering violent extremism and radicalization that lead to terrorism (VERLT) in a prison context.

Keynote address by Suzanne Jabbour, Chairperson of the UN Sub-Committee on the Prevention of Torture and member of the PRI Board;

Presentation of the publication by Johannes Heiler, ODIHR Adviser on Anti-Terrorism Issues;

Panelists:

- Yuliya Denissenko, Director of the Asia Group Public Foundation, Kyrgyzstan;
- Anne-Sophie Bonnet, Contrôleur general des lieux de privation de liberté, France;
- Erinda Bllaca, Executive Director of the Institute for Activism and Social Change, Albania;
- Alba Jorgaxhi, National Legal Officer, OSCE Presence in Albania;

Moderated by Andrea Huber, Head of the ODIHR Human Rights Department.

Followed by Q&A

The webinar will be held in English. Interpretation to/from Russian will be provided.